Dugout's CRUISIN' THROUGH Canada

LITTLE LEAGUE COLORING BOOK

Dugout left his home in Williamsport, Pennsylvania early this morning to catch his flight! Dugout is on the airplane on his way to travel across Canada to see the sights and sounds of Little League and the great white north.

Dugout and the local Little Mountain Little Leaguers decided to check out the Vancouver Science Centre before their big game.

Dugout came a little over dressed to the Rocky Mountains in beautiful Banff, Alberta, silly Dugout, it's summer you nut!

Dugout stopped in Edmonton to cheer on a girls little league game before heading south to Calgary. The girls across Canada can play baseball or softball.

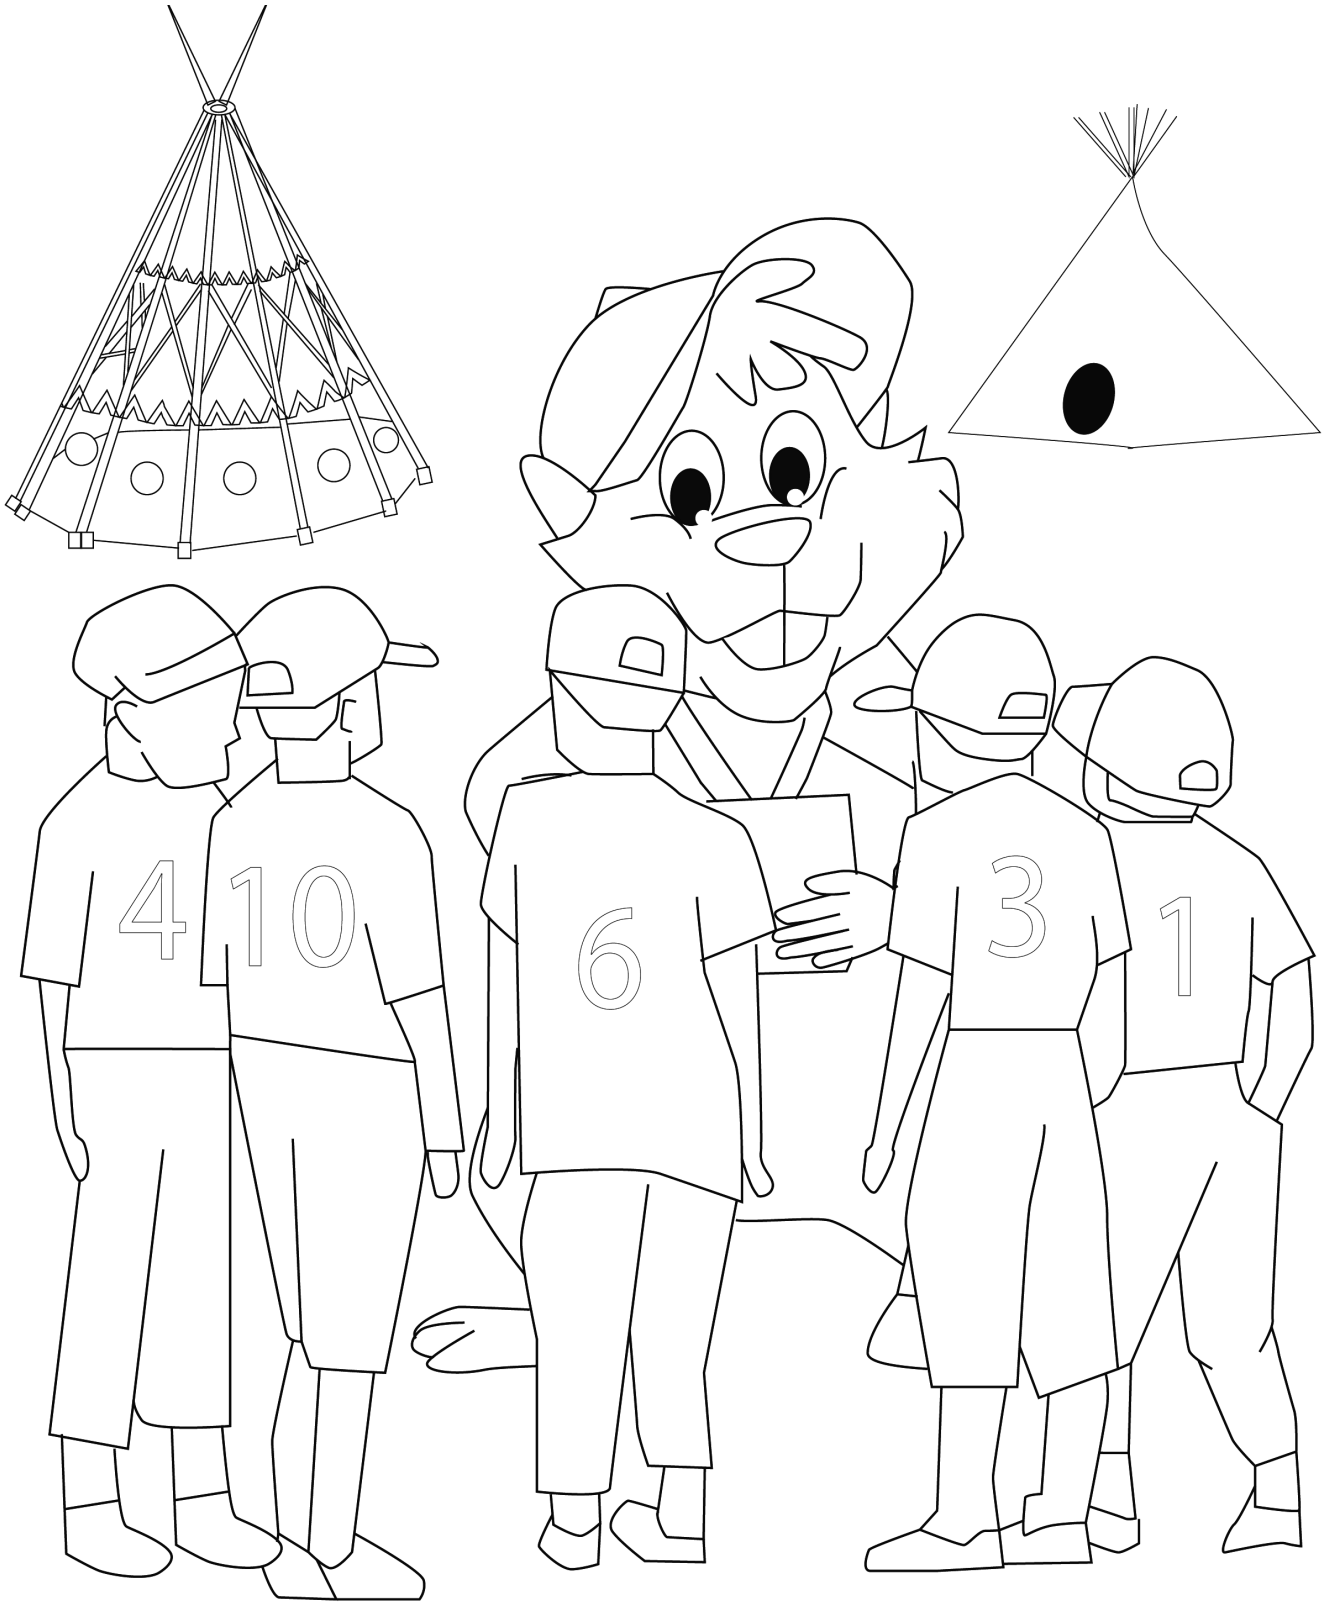

Calgary is the destination for Challenger Baseball and Rotary Challenger Park where Dugout decided to help out a friend!

Dugout has stopped in Lethbridge to volunteer his time to umpire a baseball game at Spitz Stadium, home of the Junior Little League Canadian Championships every summer.

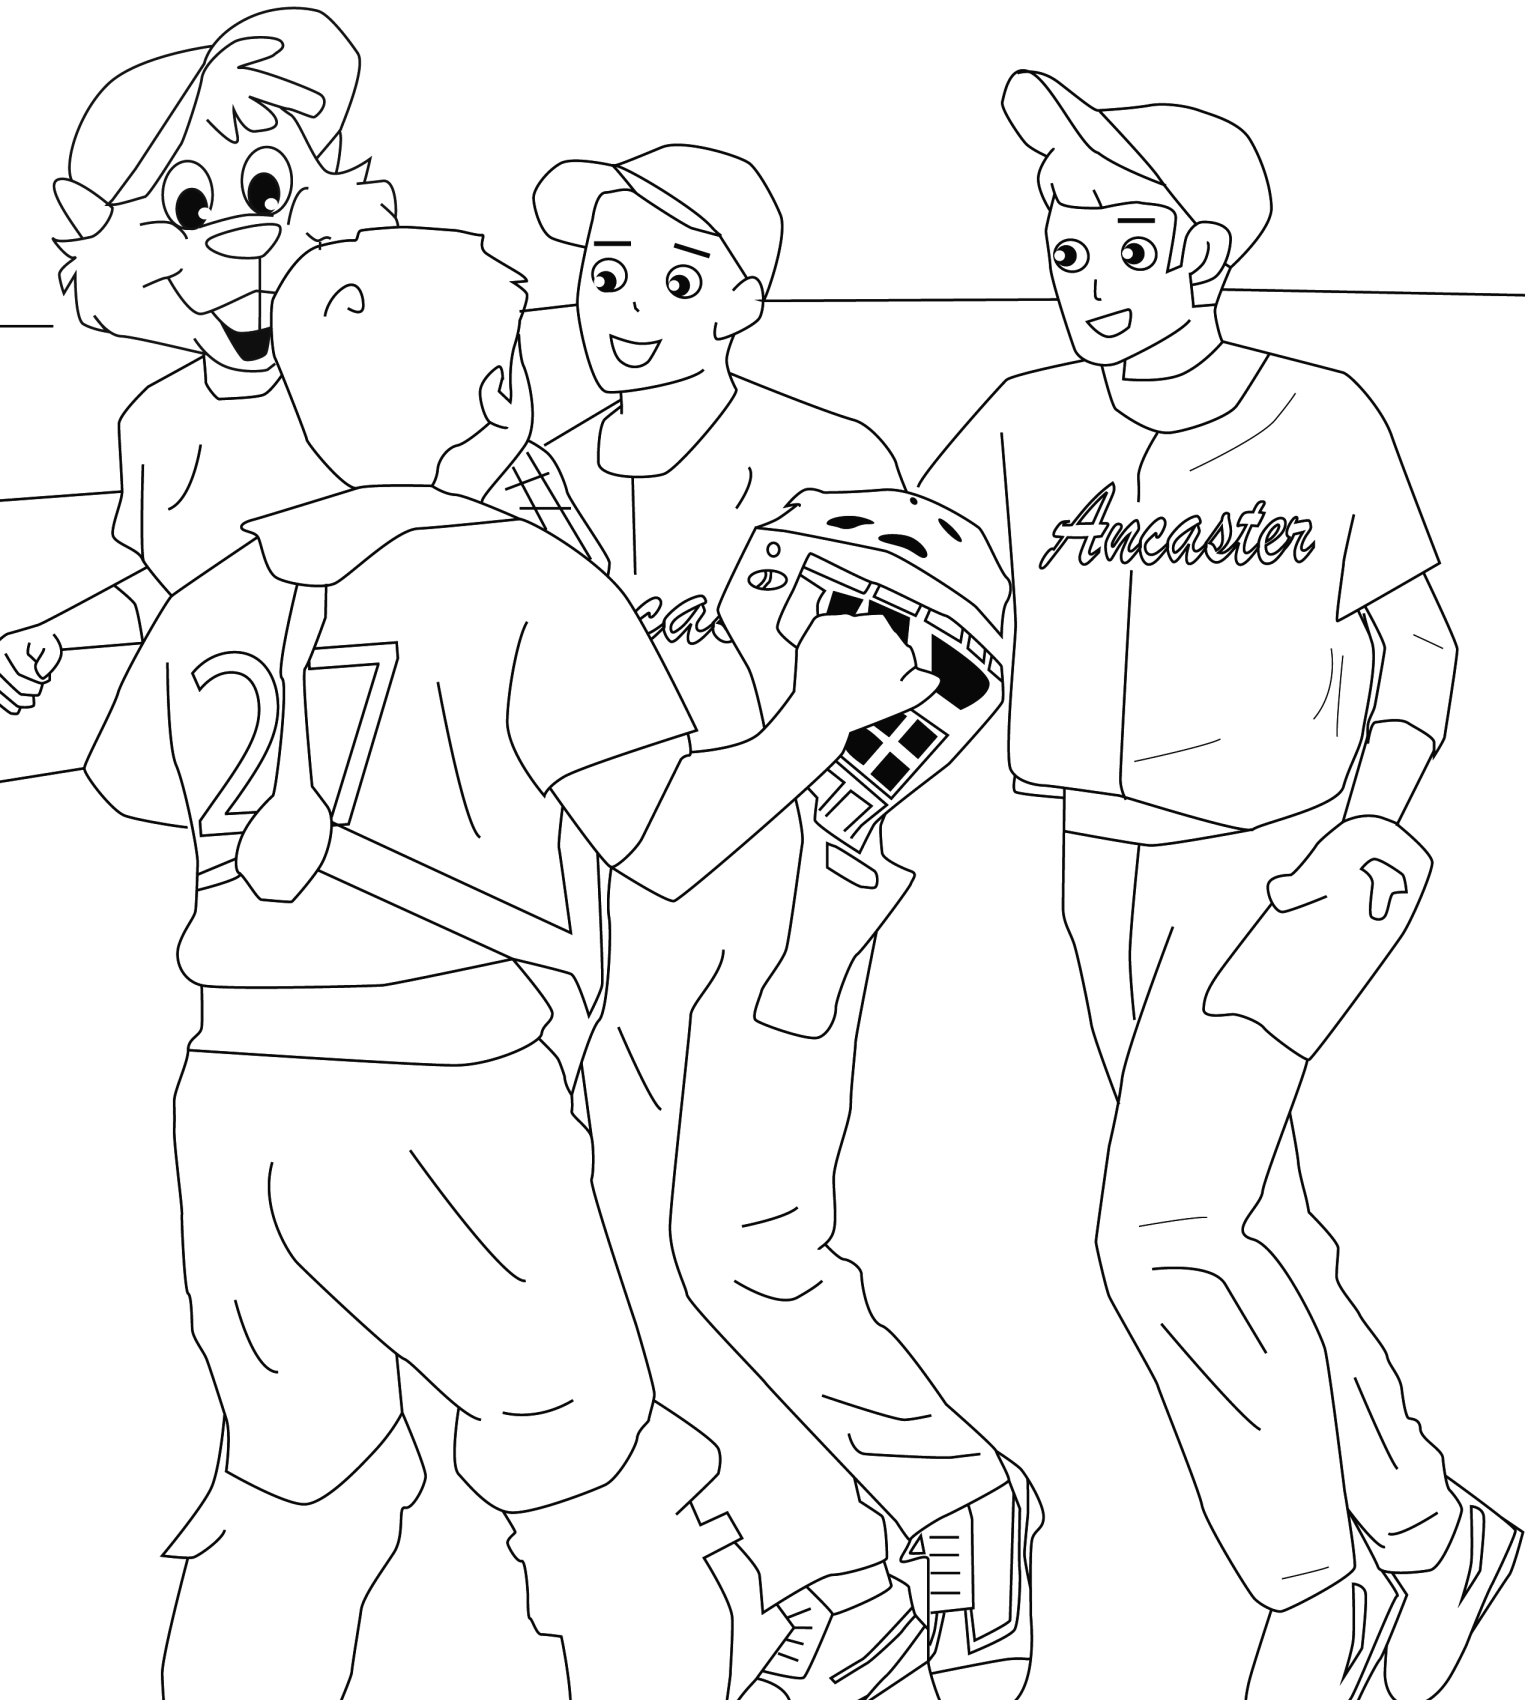

Coach Dugout is reading out the line up and teaching the baseball fundamentals to this 10 and under baseball team from Medicine Hat. He is impressed with the Indigenous history in Canada and is hoping to see more Indigenous youth play Little League. The famous Medicine Hat Tee Pee stands tall in the background!

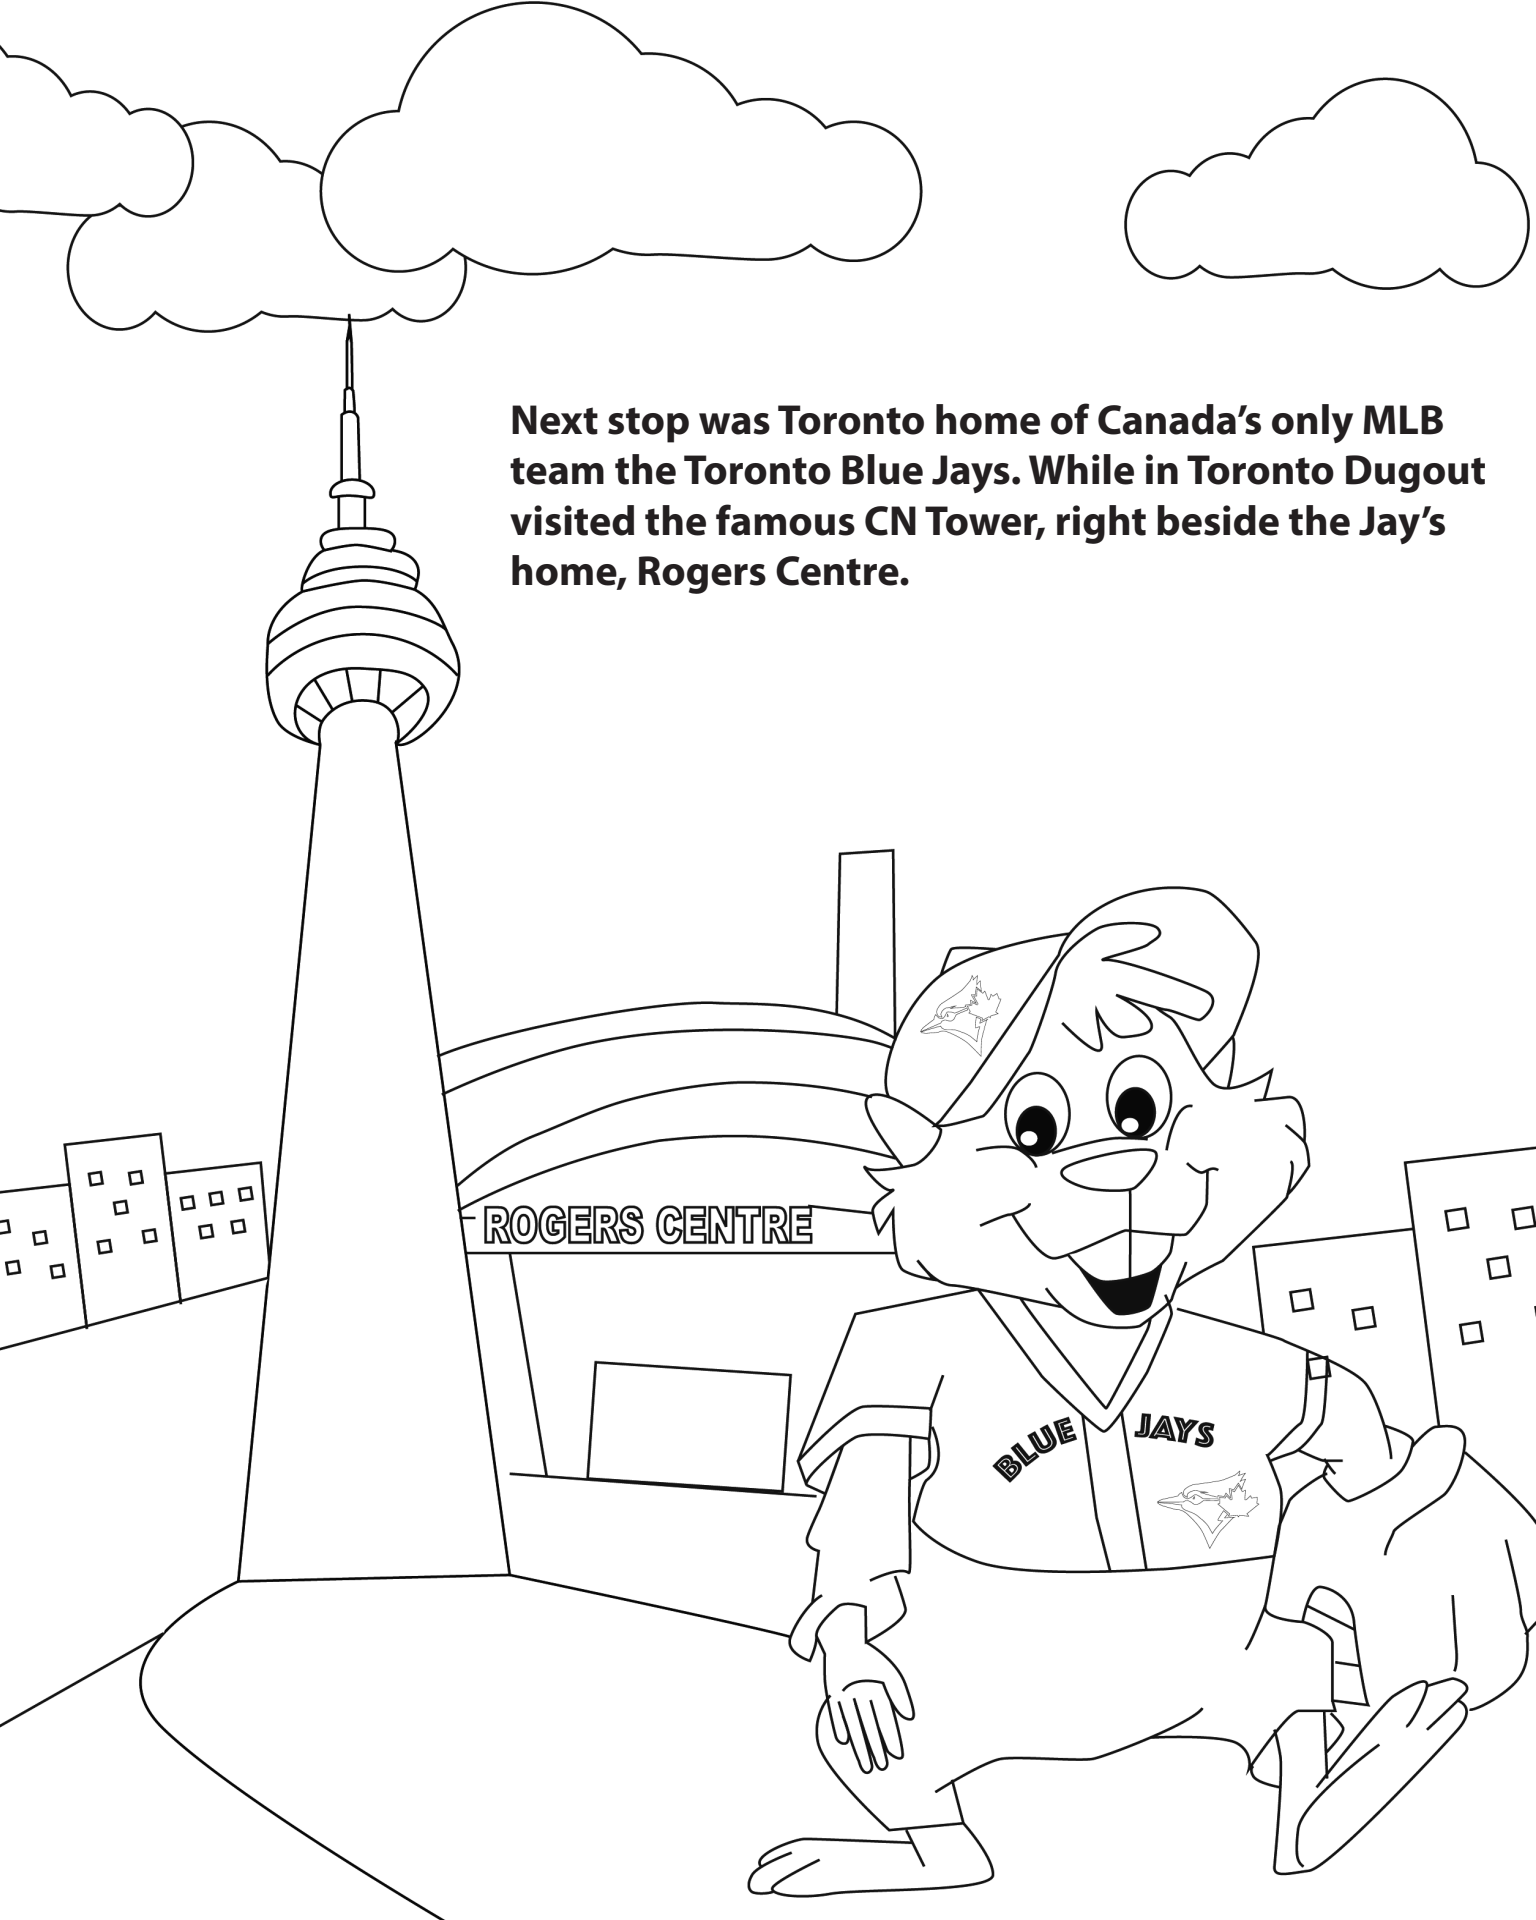

Welcome to Saskatchewan, Dugout! In Saskatchewan there are currently 3 strong Little League programs for youth to play in and compete in great baseball action.

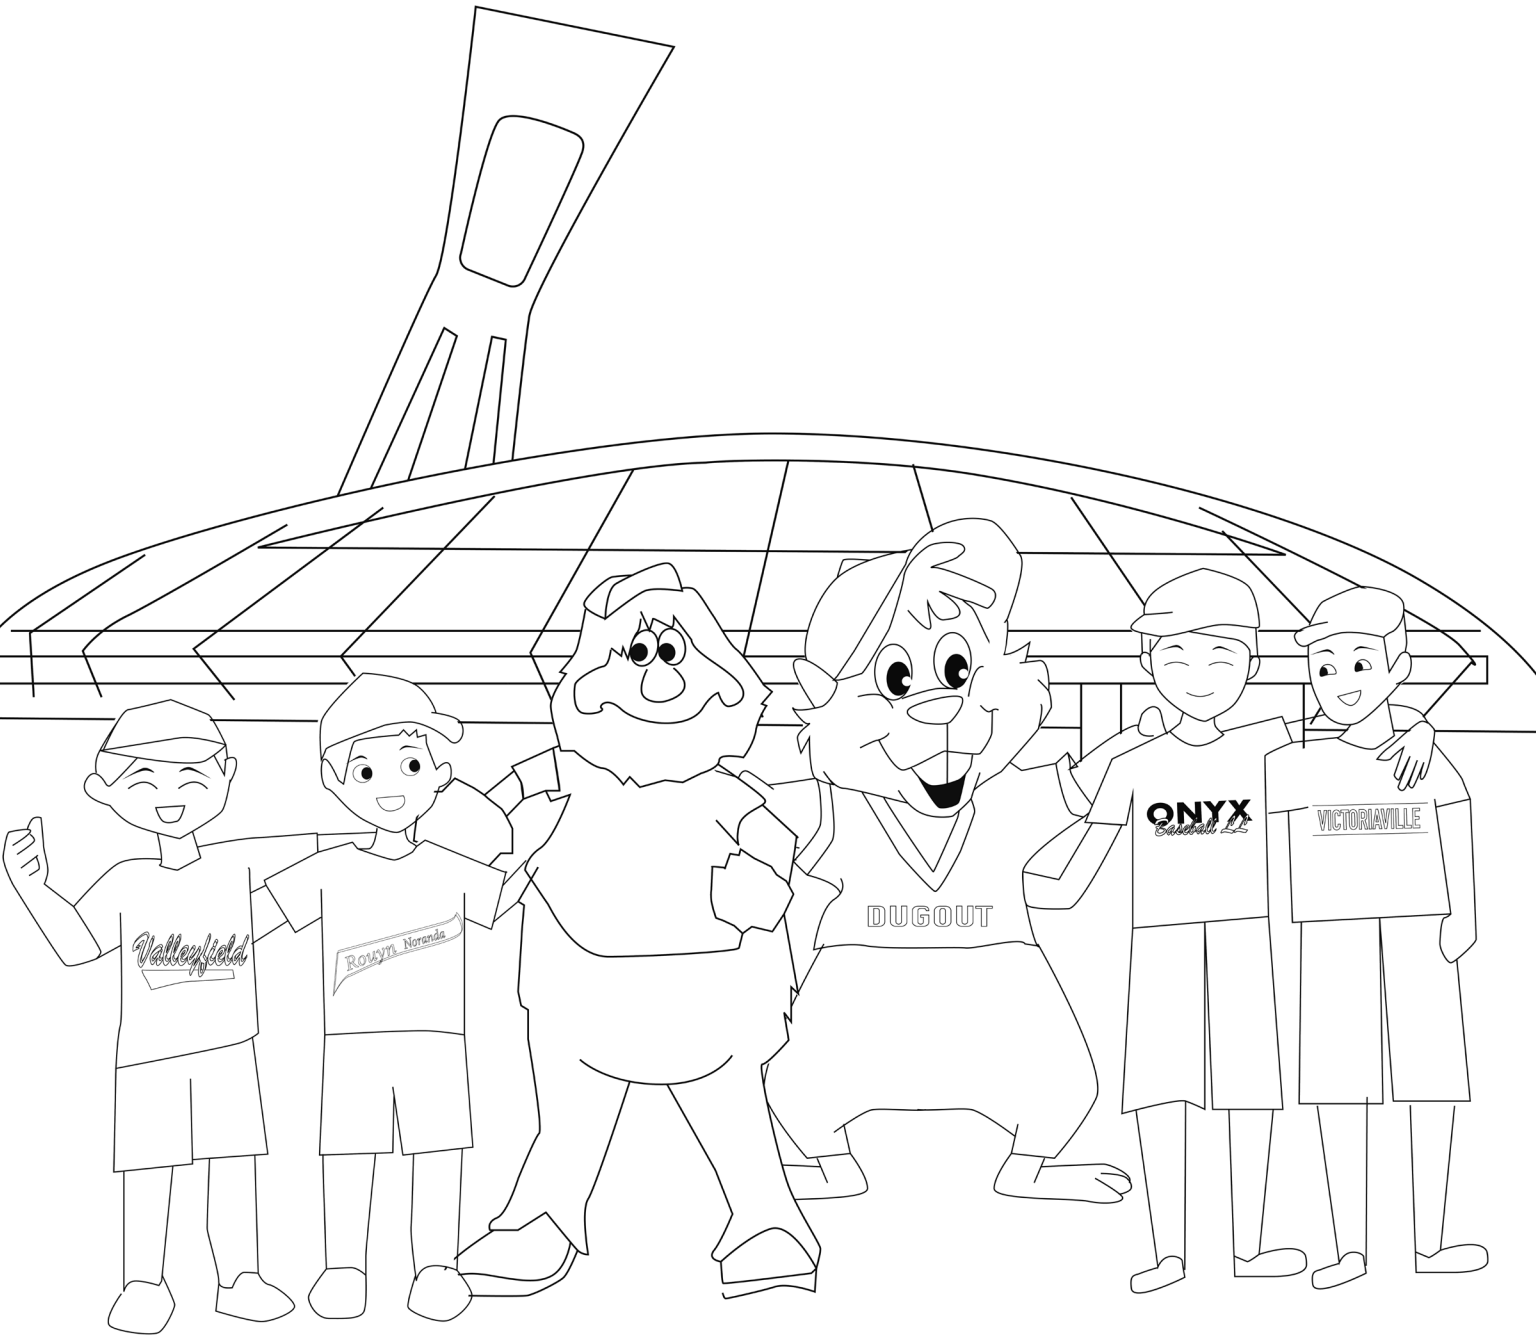

Dugout has stopped for a Little League baseball game in Ancaster before heading a few miles north to see the Toronto Blue Jays.

Next stop was Toronto home of Canada's only MLB team the Toronto Blue Jays. While in Toronto Dugout visited the famous CN Tower, right beside the Jay's home, Rogers Centre.

Dugout is in Montreal, Quebec to meet and greet with some of the Petite Ligue Quebec teams and Youppi the mascot at the famous and massive Olympic Stadium which was home to the Montreal Expos Baseball Team.

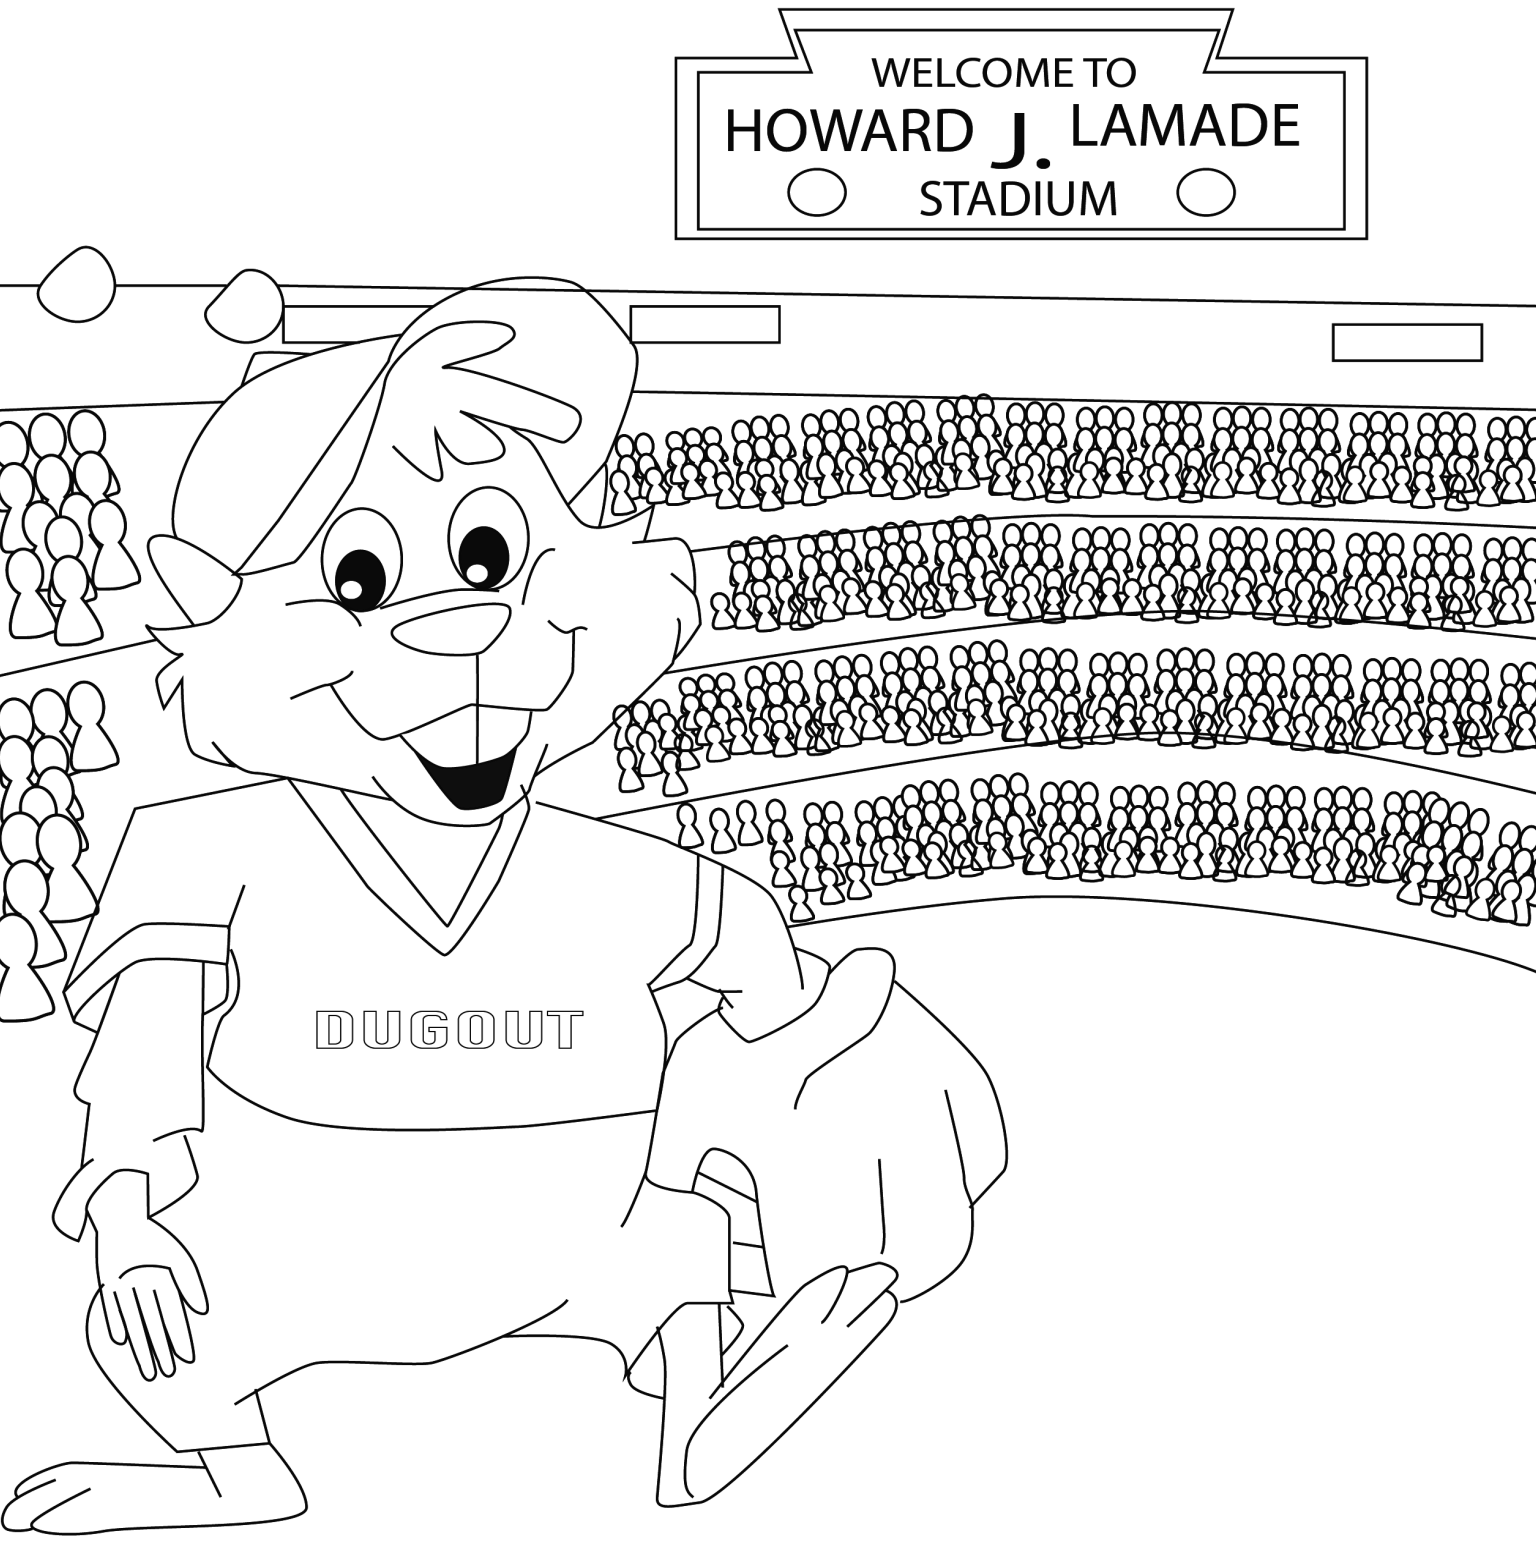

Dugout has made his way to the East Coast. Dugout is on the Sydney, NS lighthouse searching for his next location!

Dugout chose to make his final stop the historic Cameron Bowl ballpark in Glace Bay, NS.

Dugout has made his way back to Williamsport, PA and is just in time for the annual Little League World Series at Howard J. Lamade Stadium. Dugout had made great friends and memories that will last a lifetime while he was in Canada.
